Innovative Higher Education

Volume 16, Number 1, Fall 1991

Editor's Page
A Woman of Substance 5
Ronald D. Simpson

College Teaching: What Do We Know About It? 7
K. Patricia Cross
Louise McBee Lecture presented by Dr. Cross at the University of Georgia on October 25, 1990

Cooperative Learning: A Successful College Teaching Strategy 27
Lenora Cook
A review of the literature concerning the use of cooperative learning strategies at the undergraduate level of instruction

An Evolutionary Response to Adult Learners: The Urban Small College 39
Douglas L. Robertson
This article discusses characteristics of adult learners and recommendations for serving them at urban small colleges–an emerging institutional type

Adult Students, Adult Education, and the Ed.D.: An Alternative Residency Experience 49
Rae Wahl Rohfeld
Adult education concepts provide a basis for designing an alternative residency for working adult Ed.D. candidates

An Examination of Similarities and Differences Among Adults' Perceptions of Instructional Excellence in Off-Campus Credit Course Programming 59
Joe F. Donaldson
Analysis of adults' perceptions of instructional excellence suggests that perceptions can be understood as normative expectations resulting from socialization experiences

General Education in Research Universities: Training Programs for Teaching Assistants 79
Julie A. Hughes
The instructional processes for general education courses which rely on teaching assistants as a major teaching resource are examined

Innovative Higher Education

Volume 16, Number 2, Winter 1991

Guest Editor's Page 93
William K. Jackson
The Third National Conference on Professional and Personal Renewal for Faculty

The National Renewal Conference: A Forum for the Discussion of Issues of Faculty Vitality and Renewal 95
William K. Jackson
A series of national conferences focusing on faculty renewal is described

The Three Rs of Conflict Management for Department Chairs and Faculty 107
Walter H. Gmelch and James B. Carroll
An introduction to understanding and addressing conflict in academic departments is presented

Second Order Change: Impact of a College Renewal Program over Time 125
Joyce Povlacs Lunde, Daniel W. Wheeler, Ted E. Hartung, and B.J. Wheeler
A structured process for faculty professional development yields external and internal benefits for individuals and the institution they serve

From Rejection to 'Renuwel' to Renewal: Chairperson, Faculty, and the Research Imperative 139
Peter Balbert
The Chair's strategy in encouraging research, and four archetypal examples of faculty who need research renewal, is examined

Applying Productivity Indices as an Innovation for Motivating Individual and Institutional Initiatives for Faculty Renewal 157
Merl Baker
Productivity indices are indicators of faculty accomplishments and provide faculty and their supervisors guidelines for assessing performance and effectiveness of resource utilization

A Professor Realizes the Potential Poison of Ivy 173
David F. Machell
Professional melancholia involves a loss of motivation, positive attitude and self-esteem

An Essay–Faculty Writing: Redirection and Renewal 187
Mary Kathryn Harrington
Faculty renewal focusing on professional writing and faculty attitudes toward it, and strategies to inspire writing is encouraged

Innovative Higher Education

Volume 16, Number 3, Spring 1992

Editor's Page
Patricia L. Kalivoda and Ronald D. Simpson 199
The Mission of Innovative Higher Education: An Update Using the Delphi Method

A Practical Guide to Zero-Based Curriculum Review
Michael B. Paulsen and Bruce A. Peseau 211
A systematic, situationally-flexible, and reusable framework to guide the implementation of a "zero-based" curriculum review process is presented

Some Lessons to be Learned from a Decade of General Education Outcomes Assessment with the ACT COMP Measures 223
Donald B. Yarbrough
Evaluations of cognitive general education outcomes need to be better designed and implemented in order to provide worthwhile information about program outcomes and valid uses of the ACT COMP measures

Structured Study Questions as a Social Work Teaching Method: A Controlled Experimental Study 235
Bruce A. Thyer, Geraldine Jackson-White, Richard Sutphen, and Dorothy F. Carrillo
The effectiveness of structured study questions as a method of instruction within didactic social work education is examined

Innovative Higher Education

Volume 16, Number 4, Summer 1992

Editor's Page 249
Ronald D. Simpson
Innovative Higher Education is Finding Its Niche in Higher Education

Fostering Intellectual Development of Students in Professional Schools Through Interdisciplinary Coursework 251
Sheila P. Wright
The relationship between intellectual growth and interdisciplinary general education courses designed to promote lifelong learning is examined

Teaching and Learning One-Course-At-A-Time 263
Charlotte Vaughan and Christopher Carlson
The effects of the adoption of a calendar incorporating intensive study throughout the academic year at a small liberal arts college are examined

An Investigation into the Types of Turning Point Events Affecting Relational Change in Student-Faculty Interactions 277
Karen Lynn O'Neill and William R. Todd-Mancillas
This study examines whether students are able to identify significant "turning point" events contributing to relational changes with university instructors

Implementing an Advanced Composition Program with Faculty from Across the Curriculum 291
John Dinan, Joseph E. Finck, William Miles, and Mary Scheuer Senter
This paper describes Central Michigan University's positive experiences in teaching advanced composition with faculty drawn from departments throughout the university